FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Women in Standards announces a Memorandum of Understanding with the Society for Standards Professionals (SES)

October 13, 2020 - The Women in Standards is proud to announce that it has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Society of Standards Professionals (SES). Through this agreement, the Women in Standards and the SES continue to raise the visibility of standardization and the development of standards professionals and contributors and will seek opportunities to provide education, resources, and support to the standards community.

The work of the Women in Standards and SES will include the development of a collection of resources and libraries of skills, education, and capabilities identified as needed to perform as a successful standards professional or contributor (e.g. those working as consensus body members and participating in the development of standards).

To learn more, visit the Women in Standards website at womeninstandards.org/job-descriptions-for-standards-contributors/ or reach out to Women in Standards Executive Officer, Karin Athanas at admin@WomeninStandards.org.
